New York, July 26.—A great contribution to the information about infantile paralysis is made public here today, was a statement by Dr. Simon Flexner, of the Rockefeller institute, that the disease is spread primarily by personal contact of child with child.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals announced that fear of the epidemic had caused a tremendous increase in calls upon it to make way with cats and dogs. Since the first of July, 73,000 cats and 8,000 dogs have been put to death by the society agents.

The war has seen no more desperate fighting than that which has resulted in the ejection of the Teutons from this French village. An important point on the main highway toward Bapaume was the objective of the first great thrust of the British offensive.

Australians and New Zealanders Lend.

Late last week Australian and New Zealand soldiers gained a foothold in the village itself. A series of furious German counter attacks failed to disloide them. The rain of machine gun fire was incessant save when furces on both sides swarmed out from their barriers and with clubbed rifles and bayonets swayed back and forth in hand to hand grip.

Threatened for weeks, the Germans had time to make emplacements in houses for their machine guns to buttress up their machine guns to buttress up their positions with concrete and steel. They turned a windmill to the northwest of the town into a veritable fortress, from which machine guns rattled death.

Capture of the whole of Pozieres endangers the German forces fighting in the salient from Thiepval to Pozieres. It was noted here today that the territorials having ejected the Teutons from the village, immediately began a westward encircling movement, menacing the enemy contained in this loop of the line. A retirement from this curve is expected. A further British enveloping movement eastward from enveloping movement eastward from Thiepval was anticipated today to in-crease the pressure on this "kink" in the line, forcing the Germans to straighten it out by a retreat.

TODAY'S MARKET REPORTS.

Chicago, July 26—WHEAT—Wheat prices took an upward swing today largely 'ccause of warm weather in the northwest threatening to make black rust damage worse. Advices were at hand that the pest was increasing in Maniteba, and that in Saskatchewan the crop would allow a big shrinkage as compared with last year. Minnesota, near the Canadian border, also was said to have been badly hit by black rust. Opening prices, which ranged from %, to 24c higher, with September at $1.20% to $1.21%, and December at $1.20% to $1.21%, and December at $1.23% to $1.24, were followed by additional gains and then a moderate reaction.

In the last half of the day weakness developed as a result of heavy selling based on opinions that the advance had fully discounted for the present, the losses in sight on the northwestern crop. Prices closed unsettled at $1.10%@%; Sept., $1.22%@1.23; Dec. % off to %@%c up, compared with yeaterday's finish.

Buillsh crop reports carried corn up grade. Lack of rain was the chief complaint. Bullish crop reports carried corn up grade. Lack of rain was the chief complaint. After opening ¼ to 1¼@1%c higher, the market scored a slight further advance before beginning to react.

Sales here for shipment to the seaboard tended to favor the bull side but the late weakness in wheat acted as more than an offset. The close was nervous, ranging from %c decline to a rise of %@%c net.

OATS hardened with other cereals. Offerings were scarce.
